

For a hobby area, cork is an ideal smooth-flooring material. It's cushioned, quiet and easy to keep clean. These cork tiles from Lumber Liquidators provide an easy-to-install floating floor system.

Slatted wall systems (Suncast is shown) aren't just for the garage or shop. They provide convenient access to tools and supplies, their storage potential is flexible, and they look cool.

Because bedrooms tend to have limited natural light, we added a tubular light (a Solatube Daylighting System) to improve visibility and to provide for more accurate color rendering.

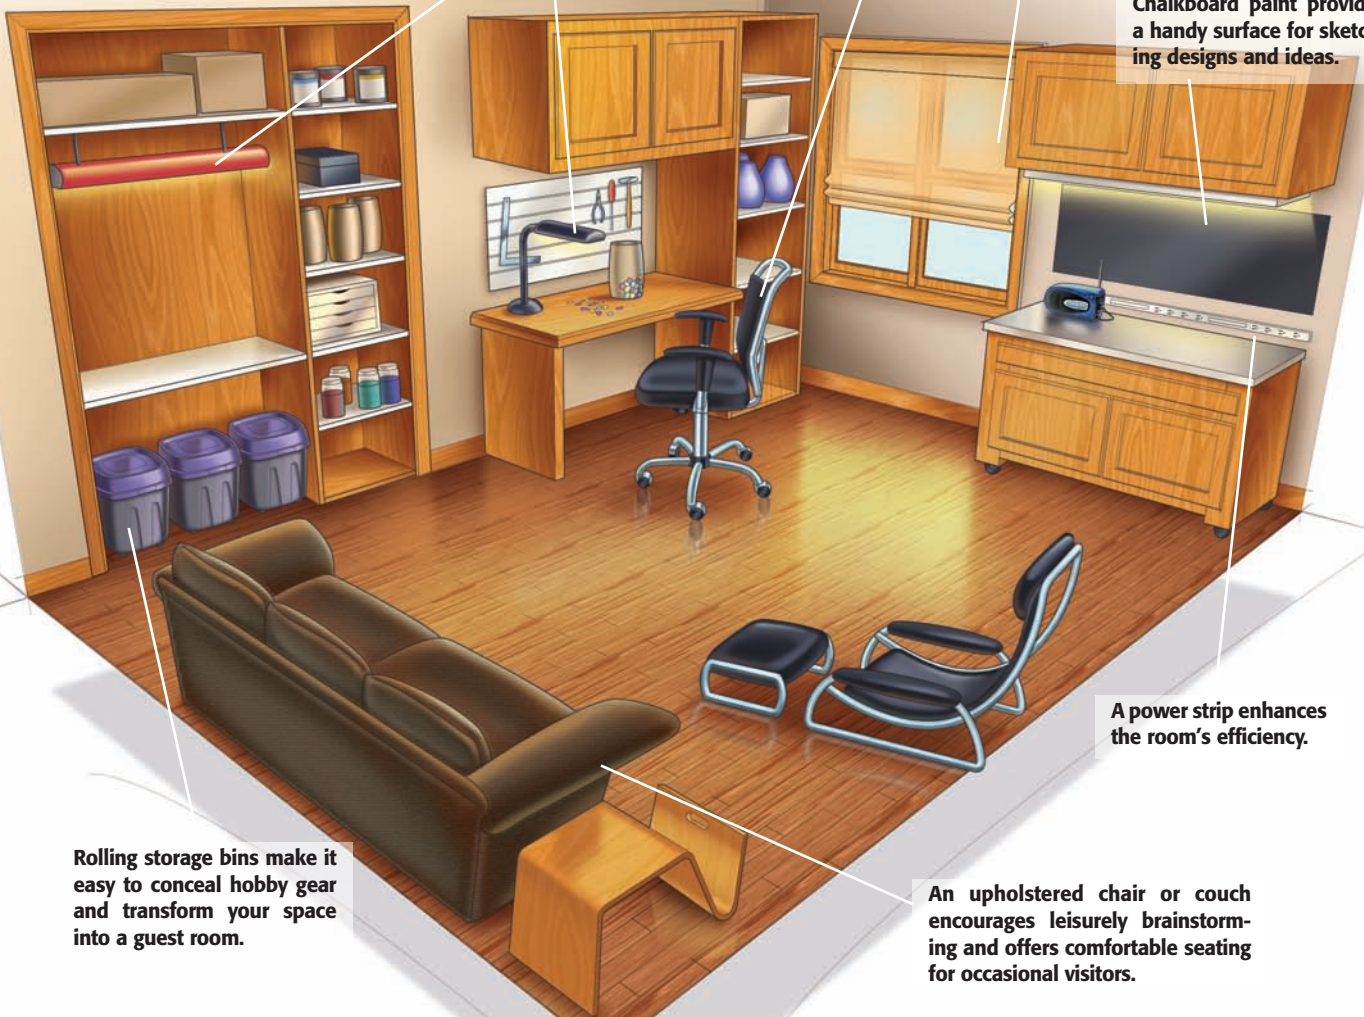

Halogen and incandescent lamps are recommended to accurately render color, and compact fluorescents offer energy-efficient brightness.

An office chair provides back support, adjustable-height seating and mobility.

White sheer curtains provide some privacy without blocking natural light.

Chalkboard paint provides a handy surface for sketching designs and ideas.

Rolling storage bins make it easy to conceal hobby gear and transform your space into a guest room.

A power strip enhances the room's efficiency.

An upholstered chair or couch encourages leisurely brainstorming and offers comfortable seating for occasional visitors.
